SPARTANBURG.

THURSDAY, JUNE 24, 1863.

Leaving for the Legion.

I will leave Spartanburg next Tuesday morning for the Columbia Legion. Persons wishing to send clothing to the friends, can do so by leaving them at my house by next Monday. Contributors will do well to pack their goods in boxes and bring them in. Those wishing to contribute socks or other clothing can do so, they will be very acceptable as the soldiers are badly in need.

— Respectfully,

J. W. GABRETT.

Chairman of Company H.

Deceased.

Editor of the Spartan. —Sir: I find in your valuable paper of the 16th issue my name mentioned as a candidate to represent Spartanburg District, with my respects to the kind soldiers who put forth my name. I respectfully decline the nomination and its critical period of our struggle for independence.

N. N. SOUTT.

Camp of 1st S. C. June 3d, 1863.

Mr. Editor. —Please grant a number of voters space in your paper to nominate Captain ANDREW B. WOODRUFF, as a candidate to represent the District of Spartanburg in the next Legislature. Capt. Woodruff we informed will not re-sign his commission in the army, but if elected, is willing at the same time to serve his District in a civil capacity.

June 28, 1863. MANY VOTERS.

Gen. Longstreet.

To the citizens of the Southern Confederacy it will be a matter of rejoicing that this distinguished chieftain has now recovered from his wounds as to be able to travel with impunity. Of his arrival in Columbia the Southern Garrison of the 27th instant, remarks that he spent last night in this city. We do not know how long he will remain, but our citizens would take great pleasure in seeing this renowned soldier. We hope it will not be long before the country will again have his valuable services.

From the Georgia Front.

MARIETTA, June 27.—Nothing of interest transpiring here; both armies occupy the same position held for some days. Our batteries on Kennesaw Mountain are shelling the enemy's works this morning, their batteries replying, wasting much gunpowder.
